

For this ceremony, the Bridal party walked in accompanied by a loud rock song.

It is rare to have such a bold style of intro song but it was amazing!

Truly memorable and what a moment when the couple hugged at the top of the aisle, it was like being in a movie...

CEREMONY INTRODUCTION

Can everybody be seated and please make yourselves comfortable.

Hello and welcome to you all on this very special occasion.

Today we are here at Doubletree in North Queensferry to witness and celebrate the marriage of Charlie and Mitch.

Charlie and Mitch are so happy and excited to be able to share their special day with you.

So many wonderful people have come together to celebrate with our happy couple, so to you, our fabulous guests - thank you for being here to make Charlie and Mitch's wedding day such an incredible moment in their lives! It is wonderful that you can be together on such a happy occasion, so I hope you all have a brilliant day!

My name is Stephen McLaren and I am a Celebrant and Marriage Officer with Humanism in Scotland, a small and merry band of Celebrants based "across the water" in South Queensferry.

It is my honour and delight to be here to conduct and legally witness Charlie and Mitch's wedding ceremony. It has been an absolute pleasure to get to know this fabulous couple as we planned their special day.

(look to couple)

Charlie and Mitch, you are making a lifelong commitment to each other today.

You will share personal vows and make heartfelt promises to express what your life together means.
Friends and flatmates for almost ten years, you have been together as a couple for six of those years.
You have looked after each other and looked out for each other and today, you are promising to continue to love, cherish and support each other, no matter what.

Ladies and gentlemen, I think you will agree, that is something to celebrate!

I ask the guests to give you a big, happy welcome :))

To our fabulous guests, today is also a celebration of you.

You are the people who have helped to make Charlie and Mitch the caring, dedicated and brilliant people they are. Your love, support, friendship and laughter have made all the difference, so they thank you for everything you have done for them over the years.

Speaking of support, a huge thanks must go to four wonderful people whose incredible support and generosity have helped to make today's celebration possible:

Mitch's mum, Nicola, his dad, Craig and his step-mum Vera, and also Charlie's Auntie Trisha.

Thank you for everything you have done for Charlie and Mitch over the years and especially now, they are eternally grateful.

And how can we forget Charlie's incredible sisters?!!

Lacey, Brogan, Carly & Louise. Charlie couldn't have done any of this without you, so thank you for everything, thank you for always being there AND thank you for helping Charlie to be a beautiful bride.

Megan and Brogan, thank you for your help today.

Ladies, you have all made Charlie's dreams come true!

CANDLE LIGHTING

When we have the opportunity to be together on important days like today, we remember the people who cannot be with us to enjoy this occasion.

Family and friends who couldn't be here and loved ones who have passed on are forever in our hearts and today, we miss them even more.

Charlie and Mitch, can you please come forward and light your candles, thank you.

Charlie and Mitch light the candle and return to the front with Stephen.

LOVE STORY

Sometimes, the person you fall in love with is right there.

You don't know it yet, but they are already nearby. As it turns out, Charlie and Mitch actually worked in the same place, but to be fair, the building in question is roughly the size of Belgium, so it's still a miracle they met at all! So how did Charlie and Mitch's story begin?

In our often ordinary existence, extraordinary things can happen.

When people meet, anything can happen and almost ten years ago, somewhere in the never-ending maze of boxes and conveyor belts in the Amazon warehouse, two people met and the first day of the rest of their lives began.

Charlie decided to go on night shift for a change of scene and that's when she met one of Amazon's nocturnal creatures. Charlie remembers seeing Mitch with his sleeve tattoo and thinking, "Oh hello!"

It didn't take them long to start talking and a friendship quickly blossomed.

A few months later, Charlie moved into Mitch's flat - as a flatmate.

Calm down everyone, it was all very innocent at the time! It was a convenient arrangement, a bit like when Rachel moved in with Joey...

Almost ten years on, Charlie and Mitch are both still living happily in the same flat!

They became inseparable (without really meaning to) and lo and behold, during their first year living together, one night they shared a kiss. Charlie remembers feeling a bit down one evening and the funny thing was, she was actually thinking about kissing Mitch when he made the move!

It was a pure and simple moment of affection and the great thing was, it wasn't awkward the next day. Their friendship continued as though nothing had happened... but we all know something kind of did...

So what changed? How did their spark turn into a flame?

Ladies and Gentlemen, it's quite simple! The green-eyed monster we all know: jealousy!!

That'll do it every time! Now, Mitch had confessed his love for Charlie back in 2014 and they managed to live with that tiny little elephant in the room for a few years.

Charlie admits she always loved Mitch but didn't realise she was in love with him.

Now, she can't live without him, but back in 2017, Mitch had a girlfriend and Charlie didn't like his new relationship status one bit! She realised just how much Mitch meant to her.

To her horror, Mitch was being taken away from her and she couldn't believe how jealous she felt.

On the night before his birthday, Mitch came home early from a night out.

He was upset with his girlfriend and he told Charlie the relationship was over.

Let's just take a moment to imagine Charlie's face when she heard the news!

It was getting late on the 25th of November and as the clock struck midnight to signal Mitch's birthday, how can I put this... Charlie had a 'birthday present' waiting for him.

Charlie remembers feeling worried because they had crossed the line.

How would she cope if their friendship was compromised?

Well, they had nothing to fear! The following day, they were so happy.

What had taken them more than three years and a half years had finally happened and a few days later, on the 29th of November, Charlie and Mitch officially became an item.

Knowing how much of a change this would be, they wanted to protect what they had for a bit longer, so they managed to hold out and not tell anyone until Christmas day. Charlie and Mitch couldn't believe it had taken them so long... and neither could anyone else!

Lots of fun and adventures have happened over the last five years. Exploring volcanoes and swimming with sea lions in Lanzarote; riding camels on Mitch's birthday and last year, Charlie and Mitch had the adventure of a lifetime in Thailand, cuddling tigers, bathing with elephants and walking up monkey mountain and feeding them peanuts and bananas along the way. Then, the best thing of all happened...

On the 18th of March 2022, Mitch proposed at a beautiful weekend lodge - and somehow, he managed to keep it a secret from Charlie, who usually notices everything! Charlie was getting ready for the hot tub after a long drive and Mitch decided this was his chance. Before she disappeared under the bubbles, Mitch convinced Charlie to take some photos out on the decking because the sunset was perfect.

While Charlie was busy enjoying the view, Mitch got himself into position. "Chels," he said, and Charlie turned around to find Mitch on one knee with a ring in his hand. To avoid any doubt or mistaken identity, Mitch used Charlie's full name. "Charlie Hyde, will you marry me?"

Charlie was overwhelmed! It took her a couple of minutes to say yes... plus she was kind of savouring the moment and enjoyed keeping Mitch on his knee! Charlie had never felt so happy and Mitch had never felt so relieved.

They went straight to social media to share the good news, taking photos together and sharing pictures of Charlie's engagement ring. What a moment to treasure!

Charlie admits that after everything that has happened and all the amazing, happy memories they have enjoyed so far, Mitch's proposal was the best moment of her life... followed closely by meeting her favourite band, Evanescence!

Following a crazy year of planning and excitement, here they are with the same huge smiles on their faces!

Ad-lib a few words to introduce the secret answers...

Choose three words to describe your partner.

Charlie says Mitch is funny, happy and amazing!

Mitch says Charlie is funny, kind and trustworthy.

What do you love about each other?

Mitch still manages to catch Charlie off guard and even after all these years, he has her in stitches. Charlie and Mitch just have a laugh all the time. There are never any issues, bickering or pettiness. Their relationship is unique - as it should be - and it works perfectly. They have the same interests, they support each other through everything and they never need to give things a second thought. Charlie and Mitch have 100% trust in each other because they know each other so well. Charlie says their laughter is just the best. she finds it hard when she doesn't see Mitch some days due to their working hours, yes, Mitch is still a night creature when it comes to work - but it's the small things that make a difference and getting cute messages from Mitch when Charlie gets to work make all the difference.

What are the secrets to a happy marriage?

Can you believe, you both said love, you both said trust and Mitch, you added in some happiness for good measure!

Charlie and Mitch, may you continue to find the best things in life and the best things in each other. Congratulations on everything you have achieved together so far and thank you for sharing your story with us today!

INFINITY KNOT

Mitch's mum Nicki and Aunt Zoe will help tie the knot

Charlie and Mitch will now exchange their wedding vows using traditional handfasting. This ancient marriage ritual was used in Scotland for many years and it is where the term “tying the knot” comes from.

Charlie and Mitch, the knot you create today represents the strength that comes from your togetherness. Love makes you stronger and today's handfasting will be a permanent reminder of your unbreakable bond.

Stevie invites Nora and Jo to join us at the front.

Together, we wrap the ribbons around your hands. The ladies then sit down.

THE VOWS

Charlie and Mitch, before you create your infinity knot,
I ask you to answer your wedding vows in turn.

Mitch, please answer your vows by saying I DO...

Do you promise to respect, support and love Charlie at all times?

I Do

Do you promise to share friendship and laughter together?

I Do

Do you promise to embrace the adventures and challenges of life together, whatever life may bring?

I Do

And Mitch,

Do you promise to hear Evanescence for the rest of your days?

I do

Charlie, please answer your vows by saying I DO...

Do you promise to respect, support and love Mitch at all times?

I Do

Do you promise to share friendship and laughter together?

I Do

Do you promise to embrace the adventures and challenges of life together, whatever life may bring?

I Do

And finally, Charlie,

Do you promise to still be cheeky to Mitch at every opportunity

I do

Stevie asks you to pull apart and your infinity knot is created!

Cheers, whoops, applause!

THE EXCHANGE OF RINGS

The wedding ring is a circle; a symbol of eternity and strength, co-operation and peace.

The vows you have just made are physically represented by your rings.

By wearing your rings, you promise to live by your vows.

Lee, can you please present Charlie's ring to Mitch, thank you.

Mitch, please take Charlie's left hand and can you repeat these words after me,

I, Mitch, take you, Charlie // to be my lawfully wedded wife //
I give you this ring as a token of my love.

Mitch, you may now place the ring on Charlie's finger.

Lee, can you please present Mitch's ring to Charlie, thank you.

Charlie, please take Mitch's left hand and repeat these words after me,

I, Charlie, take you Mitch // to be my lawfully wedded husband //
I give you this ring as a token of my love.

Charlie, you may now place the ring on Mitch's finger.

Mitch and Charlie, your rings are a reminder of the vows you have just made.

We are not perfect. We cannot promise always to be strong, to listen well or fully understand. What we can do is try and remember our promises.

Your wedding rings can remind you to try and be your best - and sometimes, a small reminder is all it takes. If you are having a day you would rather forget, know that your wedding ring means somebody truly loves you.

THE LEGAL DECLARATION

Mitch and Charlie, I am pleased to report that you have completed the necessary preliminaries for marriage in Scotland and no objections have been lodged. The legal impediments to marriage have also been explained to you. All that now remains is for you to repeat the necessary declarations before me and in the presence of your witnesses and guests.

Please turn and face each other and hold hands.
